

TRICENTIS USA Corp. enters into a partnership with its first US partner Levada Consulting Inc.

New York, September 23, 2011 – TRICENTIS USA Corp has managed to achieve another important milestone by signing Levada Consulting, Inc. as its first TOSCA Certified Implementation Partner in the US market. Both companies recently entered into a respective agreement, which defines the terms of the close cooperation and of a joint approach on customer projects. The services will not only focus on the TOSCA Testsuite™ for automating software tests, but will also include the accompanying consulting services.

TRICENTIS® and Levada Consulting Inc., which have provided business and technology services to the financial industries for a decade, decided to pool their respective best practices in order to provide customers with a combined wealth of testing know-how and test execution expertise.

The agreement represents the starting point for Levada Consulting on the path to obtain “TOSCA Certified Implementation Partner” status in the near future.

“We are proud to welcome Levada Consulting on board as our first partner in the US. To me this is the best evidence of how TOSCA Testsuite™ is beginning to convince more and more companies in the US of its qualities and added value,” said Franz Fuchsberger, CEO of TRICENTIS®.

“We have decided to take the step towards this TCIP partnership, because we are impressed both by the expertise of TRICENTIS® in the field of testing and by the innovative features of the TOSCA Testsuite™, which will significantly benefit our customers in the areas of testing and test automation. I believe that we have created the foundation for a close and successful alliance and I am pleased that Levada Consulting has now become part of TRICENTIS® expansion plans into the US market”, said Michael Holzmann, President and Founder of Levada Consulting

TRICENTIS Group

Since 1997, the TRICENTIS Group has been a competent partner for its customers with comprehensive know-how covering all fields related to software testing and software quality assurance. The TOSCA Testsuite™ was developed by TRICENTIS® as an innovative and technically superior solution for test management and test automation and is a leader in this field. TOSCA is very successful on the market. The TOSCA Testsuite™ is the driving force for the rapid growth of TRICENTIS®. TOSCA enables customers to implement new approaches in software testing, which lead to a substantial increase in efficiency and require functional, organizational and technical implementation support. The rapid spread of TOSCA generates an increasing demand for premium service that requires professional implementation know-how. As of today TRICENTIS® is represented in New York, Vienna, London, Sidney, Amsterdam and Hamburg. TRICENTIS® is a Gartner Cool Vendor and was added into Gartner’s Magic Quadrant into the visionary’s sector.
